UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC

MASTER OF ARTS IN EDUCATION

ORGANIZATIONAL LEARNING & EFFECTIVENESS

Fostering Innovation through Learning, Leadership & Change

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Pacific's Master of Arts in Education, Concentration in Organizational Learning and Effectiveness (MAOLE), is designed for those wanting to transform their practice, develop their leadership skills, or change careers to fields such as:

- Organizational Leadership
- Organization Development
- Talent Management and Development
- Human Resources
- Training and Development
- Learning Design

CURRICULUM

The MAOLE curriculum is practical and represents cutting edge-practice. The program is designed around real-world, research-based competency models from the Association for Talent Development, International Society for Performance Improvement, and Society for Human Resource Management.

The program is designed around a project-based curriculum, which requires real-world work in every course. Rather than learning how to do something in the future, you will be learning by doing now, while you're in the program.

FACULTY

Benerd School of Education faculty use their years of practitioner experience and relationships to help students develop skills and attain new positions. The faculty care deeply about helping our students build successful futures.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The MAOLE program's admission process involves a holistic review that includes factors of each applicant's background and experience. Applicants will need:

- Completed online application
- Bachelor's degree from an accredited university
- Official transcripts from all colleges attended
- Personal statement
- Resume
- Writing Sample
- Three letters of recommendation
- Departmental interview (sometimes requested)

TUITION AND FINANCING

Tuition and fees are set on an annual basis. The per-unit graduate tuition rate for 2016-2017 is $1,377, plus applicable fees.

The Benerd Scholarship Program reduces tuition by approximately 33% and is available to most graduate students in the Benerd School of Education.

Graduate students who are U.S. citizens or eligible non-citizens may apply for federal student loans. Please contact our Office of Financial Aid for more information about financing options.
